

Daggett Daily

Week of March 2 & March 9, 2020

We are starting a really awesome unit on the Rainforest. It is like having a fieldtrip in our class. We were given a trunk filled with cool stuff from the Science Museum. We will study plants, animals and products from South America.

Family Project: At conferences I will send home an assigned animal or insect from the rainforest. Please do some research and create a poster about your critter. Be creative and have fun! It is due Tuesday, March 10 or when it's done. Please include where they live, what they eat and any other interesting facts!

Sharing: any book or stuffed animals on the rainforest.

Rainforest: Over the next two weeks: We will explore the different animals and plants of the rain forest. Ask your child about the different layers in the rainforest and what fantastic frogs do! We will also learn about the many important products from the rainforest.

Skills: Our Letter sounds Nn and Mm with reading words no and for. In Journaling, we will be using our reading words and kinder-spelling. I will also check in on all our reading words.

Author of the Month: H.A Rey and Margaret Rey they are the creators of Curious George!

Next week in math, we will start a Chapter on exploring numbers to 100. I will also be testing them on their numbers, counting and printing thru 30.

Reminders:

February Calendars due!

NO SCHOOL March 6 & 9 Conferences/Workshops

Thanks and have a great week!

I am excited to share with you how awesome your kids are at conferences. I can't believe how fast this year has gone!
